Message From Pastor Andy

Dear JPC Members and Friends,

A mentor of mine was fond of the saying, "Fall is when the church gets things done." He wasn't wrong; fall is the time of renewed energy and enthusiasm as people have come back into regular routines. The choir is back, and worship attendance is up from the dog days of August. Fall is the time also for church administration: of budgeting for the coming year, for personnel reviews, for the work of the nominating committee in lining up the next generation of church officers, and for the stewardship campaign assuring the church finances for the coming year. All these things need to be settled before the coming Advent and Christmas seasons. (Or, at least, transitioning to a new year is much smoother if they are done before the holiday rush.) Yes, indeed, fall is when the church gets things done.

Amidst all the business, however, I am reminded that the church does not exist to serve itself. Yes, budgets, nominations, and the like are important, but they are not the reason for existence. No one says, "I participate in the life of JPC because I love spreadsheets and meetings." We participate because this is our church family, and we are called to be disciples of Christ Jesus. If we lose Christ at the center of what we do, then we have lost our identity. This fall, as we ramp into the busy times at JPC, let us not lose sight of the one we follow. Let us not forget the grace of God, the love of Jesus, or the call of the Holy Spirit. We often say that everything we do goes for the glory of God.

Garden Gossip

Many people have a favorite flower that makes them smile whenever they see it. What plant makes you smile?

The gardens at JPC create a warm welcome to all who pass by or enter our sanctuary. A few plants donated by members include: Baptisia, Bee Balm, Black-eyed Susan, Bleeding Heart, Clematis, Coreopsis, Dianthus, Iris, Lady's Mantle, Magnolia, Mums, Peony, Rose, Russian Sage, Salvia, Sedum, Tulips and Yarrow.

Perennials come back every year. Annuals bloom for the whole season but must be planted again next spring. Other donations are less obvious but equally important to the overall beauty of a successful garden, such as compost, fertilizer, mulch and hardscape.

Creating a place of peace for our community is part of the mission at JPC. Volunteers to water the gardens are important as well. Will you be a co-creator with God?

Contact Linda Ravelo today. Thank you.
